ON PASSING THE GRAVE OF MY SISTER. BY FLINT.

On yonder shore, on yonder shore, Now verdent with the depth of shade, Beneath the white armed sycamore, There is a little infant lald. Forgive this tear—a trother weeps— 'Tis there the faded flowret sleeps.

She sleeps alone, she sleeps alone, And summer's forests o'er her wave; And aghing winds at autumn moan Around the little stranger's grave, As though they murmured at the fate Of one so lone and desolate.

In sounds that seem like Sorrow's own, Their funeral dirges faintly creep; Then deep ning to an organ tone, In all their solemn cadence sweep, And pour, unheard, along the Their desert anthem o'er a child.

She came, and passed. Can I forget. How we whose hearts and hailed her birth, Ere three autumnal suns had set, Consigned her to her mother Earth! Joys and their memories pass away, But griefs are deeper ploughed than they

We laid her in her narrow cell, We heaped the soft mould on her breast, And parting tears, like rain-drops, fell Upon ber lonely place of rest. May angels guard it—may they bless Her slumbers in the wilderness.

She sleeps alone, she sleeps alone; For all unbeard, on yonder shore,
The sweeping flood, with torrent moan,
At evening lifts its solemn roar, As, in one broad, eternal tide, The rolling waters onward glide.

There is no marble monument, There is no stone with graven lie, To tell of love and virtue blent In one almost too good to die. We need no such useless trace To point us to her resting place.

She sleeps alone, she sleeps alone;
But midst the tears and April showers, The Genius of the Wild hath strown His germs of fruit, his fairest flowers, And cast his robe of vernal bloom, In guardian fondness o'er the tomb.

She sleeps alone, she sleeps alone; But yearly is her grave-turf dressed, And still the summer vines are thrown, In annual wreaths across her breast. And still the sighing autumn grieves And strews the hallowed spot with leaves.

BEAUTY.

"The wind passeth over it, and it is gone."

How often we hear men eager in the pursuit of partners for life, inquire for a beautiful woman; and yet how brief the existence of what they seek, and how unproductive of happiness is its possession.

We know full well the satisfaction that sleeps beneath the snow white lids of a beautiful eye: in the haughty curl of the exquisite lip; in the blush of a rose that leaps into a budding cheek; in the fine turn of a swan-like neck, the gentle motions of a symmetrical form, or in the shadowy redundance of dark and beautiful flowing tresses. The hearts of the young and passionate leap gladly, and are filled with wild impulses, whilst Thave to-day received—

THE STAGE in ancient Athens was used to keep alive in the hearts of the people the undying flame of liberty, and when the times called for it, of your Balsam. After a portion of Castor Oil, it was to assist in the great work of political regeneration .- Boston Post.

What is it now? A school of vice! A hotbed of immoralities. The English stage, which always includes the American, for we have nothing like a native drama, is the most profligate in Europe, and scenes are exhibited and sentiments uttered upon it every night, which would not be tolerated upon the stages of France or Italy. We medicine, never saw or read a French play, or translation from one, which contained a single immodest allusion. We never saw or read an English comedy or farce, and few English tragedies, without GARLEGANT'S BALSAM OF HEALTH.

Of patriotism our stage can boast but little; the tendency of most plays that allude in the least to nationalities, tending merely to encourage national prejudices and antipathies. Yet this is not for want of taste in the public for patriotic exhibitions; for whenever a patriotic sentiment is accidentally uttered upon the stage, it is always greeted with loud applause.

No history is richer in materials for the drama than the early and revolutionary history of the United States. Yet where are our American plays? Echo answers, where? For two years it has been in days, of the Dysentery. Calomel and other medicines had been largely administered, but without the least apparent benefit. The peculiar discharges from the bowels were unchanged in both character and frequency; the strength of the little patient could not hold out much longer. NATIONAL BANNER.

Forever float that Standard Sheet! Where breathes the toe but falls before us? With Freedom's soil beneath our feet, And Freedom's Banner streaming o'er us.

DEVOTED TO THE DEFENCE OF OUR NATIVE RIGHTS Scrofula or Kings Evil, AND POLITICAL LIBERTIES, TO THE NEWS OF THE DAY, AND THE ARTS AND SCIENCES.

PROPOSALS are herewith issued for publishing, un WEEKLY PAPER, for the success of which, the publishers most confidently trust to the enlightened, the virtuous, and patriotic of our Native fellow citizens.

When it is considered, that with a population of thirteen millions of people, there is but one publication [the Native American, of Washington] throughout our country tive American, of Washington] throughout our country avowedly, or in fact, devoted to purely American principles, to the advocacy of our Native Rights, and our own fondly cherished Liberties and Institutions, while there are great numbers among us consecrated to the exclusive interests of foreigners—to foreign, local, and political intelligence, in which their feelings are most strongly and very naturally interested or to the dissemination of principles imminently dangerous to our liberties and government—will not our patriotic fellow-country men come forward to the support of one sincerely devoted to their feelings, their rights, and their interests? We think they will.

Among the important political and national objects pro-posed by the NATIONAL BANNER it will be its steady ourpose to watch every step in the advancement of foreign ntrigue and power, and promptly to announce, and fearlessly to oppose every encroachment upon our rights and liberties. Our principle of action will be to preserve the purity and permanency of our institutions, and our motto, "Our country, our whole country, and nothing but our country." but our country!

Believing the time long since elapsed when, as was contemplated by our laws—if, indeed, that time was known at any period of our history—that the indiscrimi-nate addition of aliens to our population was virtually an accession to our power and sources of happiness, we shall show the impolicy and danger—nay, the latality and ruin, of their introduction in such swarms among us, and particularly those innumerable paupers and felons who are deported from Europe by the public authorities to rid themselves of the burden of their support and society, or their conviction and punishment, as well also, as the great numbers who flee their country to escape the justice due to dishonesty and crime. We shall assert the honor of our nation and the character of our fellow countrymen by opposing the humiliating practice of appointing foreigners to offices of authority over us, and by sustaining the abili-ties, the integrity, the judgment and intelligence of our own Native sons for every department of their own goown Native sons for every department of their own government, and for every sphere of enterprise, genius, and learning. We shall proudly point our readers to every new development of our country's resources, to our national fountains of wealth, happiness, and power, and to the various distinguishing characteristics of our people, and of our Native Land. We shall at all times warn our fellow citizens of the dangers, to which, under their own peculiar government, they, more than any other people, are exposed from the well known determination of foreign potentates, and the secret machinations of their base and bigoted agents to crush our free institutions; and we shall with like fidelity, point out to them the most certain and honorable means to avoid such fatal results; while we shall, at the same time, endeavor to inspire them with that prudence, caution, and sense of self-respect, so just and so henorable to themselves, yet so lamentably wanting in their estimation of transatiantic pomp, pageantry, and power, and in respect to every thing foreign. Nor will it be less our hope and ardent endeavor to subdue, or modify the violence and recklessness of modern party spirit, which so frequently sacrifices at its shrine, the best interests and dearest privileges of our Native Citizens. We shall contend for an amendment of our Laws of Naturalization, so that the time shall be extended during which aliens are required to have existed in the United States, previ ous to their becoming possessed of all the rights and im munities of American freemen, and the power to wield the destinies of our country. We shall enforce, with all the facts and arguments so abundantly furnished by the subjects, the necessity of a registration of voters as the only honest and efficient means by which to put a stop to the gross and frequent frauds practised upon the Elective Franchise, and the importance of requiring of Foreigners the ability, at least, to speak or read our language so as to be understood, before being invested with the sucred right of our own enlightened countrymen. It will be our duty and purpose likewise to show that the power to grant Certificates of Naturalization must be changed to other Courts, or Legislative Bodies, if we would not base-ly surrender, at wholesale, the most valuable gifts known to Americans; as well, also, as the great advantages which would result to our free institutions, our safety, happiness, and pecuniary profit by requiring of Aliens a passport of character, &c. on their arrival in this country. We shall, in fine, examine and discuss the various politi-cal and general subjects of the day with impurtiality, honesty, and independence, and mainly, as they may, now or hereafter, affect our National interest and the prosperity of the American people.

The National Banner will likewise embrace the gene ral news of the day, yet always the more useful and pleasing. Among its miscellaneous subjects—to be given with a like careful reference to their practical utility in the various pursuits of life, their amusing or spirited chathe various pursuits of the, their amusing or spirited character, and the exposure of every species of quackery—those illustrative of, and promoting, American enterprise, literature, patriotism and virtue, will be conspicuous. Intelligence from Europe, and other parts of the world, of a political, commercial and social character will be communic, ted with similar views, and with the same steady purpose of affording, in a condensed form, the most dimensional properties of the American and Weakness of the Breast, and all dispersions of the Pulmonary Organs.

CONSUMPTION!

DR. RELFE'S ASTHMATIC PILL'S have, from their extraordinary success in giving instant relief and in curing Colds, Coughs, Asthmas, Difficulty o Breathing, Wheezing, Tightness of the Chest, Pain in the Side, Spitting of Blood, Chilliness and Shiverings that precede Fevers and Lung Complaints generally! become one of the most popular Medicines known, and are sought after from every part of the country, on account of the astonishing success which has attended their administra ion in the above complaints, frequently curing the mos obstinate cases, and giving the most unexpected relief after every other remedy has failed, and persons had given themselves up in despair of a cure!

They have been known to cure persons supposed to be far gone in consumption, and exhibiting all the appearance of approaching dissolution.

And such have been the salutary effects of these Pills, even in hopeless cases, as so far to intigate the sufferings of the patient, as evidently to prolong life for days and weeks, and give to it a positive comfort they never ex pected to enjoy.

And this is the testimony of hundreds or thousands. The relief which aged people, as well as others, experience from the use of these Pills, is truly astonishing, and renders them invaluable to many, and are in fact, to some, an essential auxiliary to their comfort, and almost to their existence!

NATIVE AMERICAN ASSOCIATION

Preamble and Constitution of the Native American Association of the United States.

Whereas it is an admitted fact that all Governments are not only capable, but bound by all the principles of national preservation, to govern their affairs by the agen-cy of their own citizens; and we believe the republican form of our Government to be an object of fear and dislike to the advocates of monarchy in Europe, and for that reason, if for none other, in order to preserve our institutions pure and unpolluted, we are imperatively called uptions pure and unpolluted, we are imperatively called up-on to administer our peculiar system free of all foreign influence and interference. By admitting the stranger indiscriminately to the exercise of those high attributes which constitute the rights of the native born American citizen, we weaken the attachment of the native, and gain citizen, we weaken the anachment of the native, and gain naught but the sordid allegiance of the foreigner. The rights of the American, which he holds under the Constitution of the Revolution, and exercised by him as the glorious prerogative of his birth, are calculated to stimulate to action, condense to strength, and cement in sentiment to action. condense to strength, and cement in sentiment and patriotic sympathy.

Basing, then, the right and duty to confederate on these high truths, we profess no other object than the promotion of our native country in all the walks of private honor, public credit, and national independence; and therefore ve maintain the right, in its most extended form, of the native born American, and he only, to exercise the various duties incident to the ramifications of the laws, executive, legislative, or ministerial, from the highest to the lowest post of the Government; and to obtain this great end, we shall advocate the entire repeal of the naturalization law by Congress. Aware that the Constitution for-bids, and even if it did not, we have no wish to establish, ex post facto laws; the action we seek with regard to the laws of naturalization, is intended to act in a prospective laws of naturalization, is intended to act in a prospective character. We shall advocate equal liberty to all who were born equally free; to be so born, constitutes, when connected with moral qualities, in our minds, the aristocracy of human nature. Acting under these generic prineracy of human nature. Acting unner these generic principles, we further hold that, to be a permanent people, we must be a united one, bound together by sympathies, the result of a common political origin; and to be national, we must cherish the native American sentiment, to the entire and radical exclusion of foreign opinions and doctrines in troduced by foreign paupers and European political ad venturers. From Kings our gallant forefathers won thei liberties-the slaves of Kings shall not win them bact

Religiously entertaining these sentiments, we as so-Religiously entertaining these sentiments, we as so-lemnly believe that the day has arrived, when the Ameri-cans should unite as brothers to sustain the strength and purity of their political institutions. We have reached that critical period foreseen and prophesied by some of the clear sighted apostles of freedom, when danger threatens from every ship that floats on the ocean to our shores; when every wind that blows wasts the ragged paupers to our cities, bearing in their own persons and characters the elements or degradation and disorder. To prevent these evils, we are now called upon to unite our energies. To fight over this great moral revolution, the shadow of our first revolt of glory, will be the duty of the sons of our first revolt of giory, will be the duty of the sons of those wars, and we must go into the combat determined to abide by our country: to preserve her honor free from contagion, and her character, as a separate people, high and above the engraftment of monarchical despotisms.

ARTICLES OF THE CONSTITUTION.

First. We bind ourselves to co-operate, by all lawful means, with our fellow native citizens in the United States to procure a repeal of the naturalization law. Second. We will use all proper and reasonable exer-tions to exclude foreigners from enjoying the emoluments r honors of office, whether under the General or State overnments.

Third. That we will not hold him guiltless of his counry's wrong who, having the power, shall place a foreigner try's wrong who, having the power, shall place a foreigner in office while there is a competent native willing to accept. Fourth. That we will not, in any form or manner, connect ourselves with the general or local politics of the country, nor aid, nor be the means of aiding, the cause of any politician or party whatsoever, but will exclusively advocate, stand to, and be a separate and independent party of native Americans, for the cause of the country, and mon the principles as set forth in the the country, and upon the principles as set forth in the above preamble and these articles.

Fifth. That we will not, in any manner whatever, connect ourselves, or be connected, with any religious sect or denomination: leaving every creed to its own strength, and every man untranmelled in his own faith; adhering, for ourselves, to the sole cause of the natives the estimates. for ourselves, to the sole cause of the natives, the establishment of a national character, and the perpetuity of our institutions, through the means of our own country

Sixth. That this Association shall be connected with and form a part of such other societies throughout the United States as may now or hereafter be established on the principles of our political creed.

Seventh. That this Association shall be styled the Native American Association of the United States." "Native American Association of the United States."

Eighth. That the officers shall consist of a President, Vice President, Council of Three, Corresponding Secretary. Recording Secretary, a Committee on Addresses to consist of three members, a Treasurer, and such others as may be required under any by-laws hereafter adopted, and whose duties shall be therein defined.

Tenth. That the President, or, in his absence, the Vice

THE NEW YORK Life Insurance and Trust Company has a capital subscribed of one million of dollars, but in consequence of being the depository of the Court of Chancery, and of the Surrowgate Courts of the State of New York, as well as of individuals, the business means have increased to upwards of five millions of dellars as appears by a report of the Marten in lions of dollars, as appears by a report of the Master in Chancery, dated 23d of May, 1835.

To persons in public employment, who receive fixed salaries, an Institution like this affords a certain mode of salaries, an institution like this allorus a certain mode of securing a sufficient sum for their families at a future day; and if the object of a pavent, besides that of merely making a living, is to accumulate something for the support and education of those who may be left behind, it can be realized in this way, without exhausting those energies of mind and person which are usually necessary through the ordinary struggles of life. A person aged 30 years, whose income is $1,000 per nnum, may, by the appropriation of $118 a year, secure o his children $5,000, even if he should die the next day.

A husband 30 years old, may provide $500 for his wife by paying annually the small amount of $11 80. At 45 years old, a clerk may create a saving fund of $1,000, for the payment of his debts, by the annual premium of $37 30. At 60, the same amount may be saved to the the payment of his debts, by the annual premium of $37 30. At 60, the same amount may be secured during a period of seven years, for the yearly payment of $49 10. In the minor offices of the public service, experience has shown that the salaries are not sufficient to enable the incumbents to lay up any thing, even for the infirmities of age, much less for the maintenance of those who survive. The labors of thirty years, are, therefore, productive vive. The labors of thirty years, are, therefore. productive of only the support of the day, and there are many sensi-tive and anxious hearts who live for the happiness of their families, that are harrassed for years by the dreadful apprehensions of future want.

For such, a Life Insurance Company holds out relief, gives reality to hope, and, by the small economy of a few dollars per month, puts the mind at ease, and affords the means of securing it for others.

The preliminaries for effecting Insurances are very simple, being merely a declaration of age, health, and other particulars set out in the forms of the office, together with a statement of the physician and friend of the gether with a statement of the physician and tried of the applicant upon some of the same points, the blanks for which will be furnished by the agent in Washington city. As the design of the company is profit on the one side and protection to the other, and its means at I system are directed to that end, it only requires a reciprocity of good faith, to produce the mutual result of strength to itself faith, to produce the mutual result of strength to itself and security to its customers.

Officers in the Navy will also be Insured, either for shore or sea duty; the latter service, however, being with an additional premium, which will depend upon the latitude and climate of the voyage.

Insurance will be made for one year, or any period within seven years, or for life, the premium varying, in either case, according to the term. The risk of the company will commence with the date of the policy; but no pany will commence with the date of the policy; but no Insurance will be considered valid until the policy is delivered to the insured. Full information will be given delivered to the insured.
